Background

Bans on best-practice medical care represent one of the most extreme and coordinated political attacks on transgender people in recent years. These bills target transgender youth by blocking their access to best-practice medical care, care that is backed by decades of rigorous research and endorsed by the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, and every leading health authority in the country. These bills not only display a fundamental lack of understanding of transgender children, but they also ban access to medical care often by criminalizing the doctors and sometimes even the parents of transgender youth seeking to provide best-practice medicine for children in their care.

Equality Maps & Additional Resources

- See our Equality Map: Bans on Best Practice Medical Care for Transgender Youth, which is updated and maintained in real time alongside this document.

- For more on these attacks, including how these bills are becoming more extreme over time and expanding to include transgender adults’ access to health care, read MAP’s 2023 spotlight report.

- For more information about “shield” or “refuge” laws that protect transgender people’s access to healthcare, see our Equality Map: Transgender Healthcare “Shield” Laws (updated and maintained in real time) and its corresponding fact sheet, which contains additional state-by-state information, links, and analysis.

“Grandfather” exceptions refer to those that allow minors currently receiving prescriptions to continue that care, typically (though not always) so long as that prescription begins before the effective date of the law.

“Weaning” exceptions refer to those that allow minors currently receiving prescriptions to continue that care, but only for a limited amount of time with the expectation they will “wean off” the prescribed medication.

8. Kansas – SB233 – April 12, 2024 (read veto statement here)

State-by-State Sources & More Detail

Alabama

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <19). See SB184/HB266/Public Act 2022-289 (April 2022; effective 30 days later).
  - This law defines minor as “The same meaning as in Section 43-8-1, Code of Alabama 1975.” That section of Alabama code defines minor as individuals under the age of 19.
  - Law makes providing such care a felony crime, and requires school officials to out children to parents. This is the first state with both such provisions.
- Lawsuit status: See Boe v. Marshall, (also known as joined by the federal Justice Department, and see also Walker et al v. Marshall et al.
  - April 2022: lawsuit filed.
  - May 2022: a federal judge temporarily blocked the part of the state's law that bans medication for transgender youth, though the rest of the law remained in effect, including the ban on surgical care, felony punishment, and provisions that require school staff to tell parents if a child expresses thoughts that they might be transgender.
  - Aug 2023: the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals overturned the temporary injunction, but an ongoing appeal means the temporary injunction remains in place for now as the case continues. This means transgender youth should still be able to access medication.
  - Jan 2024: the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals allowed the ban to go into effect, despite ongoing litigation before the Court of Appeals.

Alaska

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth
Arizona

  - Law bans gender-affirming surgical care for minors, though it does not ban non-surgical forms of care (e.g., hormone-related medication).

Arkansas

  - *In June 2023, a federal judge permanently blocked the ban, ruling the law unconstitutional. However, the state is appealing this ruling. The permanent block builds on an earlier temporary block (July 2021) that prevented the law from going into effect. See Brandt et al v. Rutledge et al (filed May 2021).
  - See also SB199/Act 271 (March 2023). This law is not a ban on medical care, but it does create obstacles and deterrents to care, including by allowing lawsuits against medical providers of gender-affirming care and encouraging burdensome obstacles to care that do not reflect best practice medical standards.

California

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Colorado

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Connecticut

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Delaware

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

District of Columbia

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth
Florida

- State bans* best practice medical care for transgender youth
  - See FL Administrative Code 64B8-9.019 (filed Feb 24, 2023; effective March 16, 2023).
    - Rule allows exception for minors who were “being treated with puberty blocking, hormone, or hormone antagonist therapies prior to the effective date of this rule” (March 16, 2023) to continue that medical care.
  - See also S254 (May 2023).
    - Law also makes providing such care a felony crime.
    - Law also bans state funds from covering best practice medical care for any transgender people, regardless of age.
    - Law also creates severe obstacles, if not effective total blocks, to accessing healthcare for transgender adults. Requirements include, for example, that best-practice medical care only be provided by physicians—excluding other licensed medical professionals such as nurse practitioners or physicians assistants—thereby dramatically reducing the number of available providers of medically necessary care to transgender adults.
  - *In June 2023, a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s bans on youth care from being enforced. In June 2024, that same judge permanently blocked the ban on youth care, as well as multiple provisions affecting access to adult care. However, the state is appealing the decision.

- Lawsuit status: See Doe v. Ladapo, initially challenging the administrative ban, and later amended to also challenge the legislative ban.
  - March 2023: lawsuit filed against the administrative ban
  - May 2023: The lawsuit was amended to include the newly enacted legislative ban on youth care, though not yet the parts of that ban restricting adult access to care.
  - June 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s bans on youth care from being enforced.
  - July 2023: The lawsuit was amended to include the legislative ban’s provisions restricting adult access to care.
  - June 2024: a federal judge permanently blocked the ban on youth care, as well as multiple provisions affecting access to adult care. However, the state is appealing the decision.
Georgia

  - Law allows exception for minors who are, prior to July 1, 2023, receiving “hormone replacement therapies” (undefined) to continue receiving that medical care.
- Lawsuit status: See Koe et al. v. Noggler.
  - June 2023: lawsuit filed
  - August 20, 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s ban on medication, but not on surgical care.
  - August 21, 2023: the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals overturned the temporary injunction in Alabama. While the Georgia case was not immediately affected by this decision, Georgia is also in the 11th Circuit.
  - September 5, 2023: the federal judge in Georgia’s case paused the temporary block in Georgia, due to the 11th Circuit’s decision. This means the state’s full ban is in effect for now, though the court case continues.

Hawai`i

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Idaho

  - Law also makes providing such care a felony crime.
- Lawsuit status: See Poe v. Labrador.
  - May 2023: lawsuit filed
  - Dec 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s ban.
  - Jan 2024: the block was upheld by the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals.
  - Apr 2024: The U.S. Supreme Court, in a purely procedural decision that did not rule on the constitutionality of the ban, allowed Idaho to enforce its ban against everyone except the plaintiffs in the case as the lawsuit continues. This means the ban is in effect in the state, except for the transgender children and their families named in the lawsuit. The lawsuit is still ongoing.

Illinois

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth
Indiana

  - Law also bans any physician or other practitioner from conduct that “aids or abets” the provision of best practice medical care for transgender youth.
  - Law includes a “weaning off” clause that allows minors receiving prescription/medication prior to effective date to continue that care, but only through 12/31/23. See Section 13(d), page 5.
  - April 2023: lawsuit filed
  - June 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the parts of the state's law that ban medication for transgender youth and “aiding and abetting” the provision of this medically necessary health care. The rest of the law went into effect July 1, 2023.
  - Feb 2024: the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the earlier block, allowing the full ban to go into effect immediately. The lawsuit is still ongoing.

Iowa

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See SF538 (March 2023; medical care ban effective September 18, 2023, with other provisions (e.g., expansion of lawsuits and state attorney general’s powers) effective immediately).
  - Law also bans any health care professional from “conduct that aids or abets” the provision of best practice medical care for transgender youth.

Kansas

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Kentucky

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See SB150 (March 2023; effective June 29, 2023, 90 days after legislature adjourned).
  - Law includes a “weaning off” clause that allows minors receiving prescription/medication prior to effective date to continue that care, but only for an unspecified period of time with the explicit goal of “systematically reduc[ing]” the medication. See Section 4(6), page 9.
- Lawsuit status: See Doe v. Thornbury.
  - May 2023: lawsuit filed.
  - June 28, 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s ban from going into effect.
  - July 8, 2023: the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals lifted the temporary block of Tennessee’s ban. While the KY case was not affected by this decision, KY is also in the 6th Circuit.
  - July 14, 2023: the federal judge in KY’s case ruled that the 6th Circuit’s decision means the temporary block on KY’s law should be overturned. This means the state’s ban is in effect for now.
Louisiana
  - Law includes a “weaning off” clause that allows minors receiving prescription/medication prior to effective date to continue that care, but only until December 31, 2024.
- In January 2024, a lawsuit was filed against this ban. See Soe v. Louisiana State Board of Medical Examiners.

Maine
- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Maryland
- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Massachusetts
- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Michigan
- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Minnesota
- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

Mississippi
- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See HB1125 (Feb 2023, effective immediately).
  - Law also bans the use of public funds for any provision of best practice medical care for transgender youth, and bans any person from “conduct that aids or abets” the provision of best practice medical care. This extends the scope of the ban from doctors and medical providers to parents and any other individual who might help or participate in getting a transgender minor access to best practice medicine. This was the first state ban on transgender youth medical care that included the “aids or abets” language.
Missouri

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See SB49 (June 2023, effective August 28, 2023, but expires in four years on August 28, 2027).
  - Law also bans state funds from covering best practice medical care for any transgender people, regardless of age, specifically in the Medicaid program, and bans gender-affirming surgical care for anyone incarcerated by the state of Missouri.
- Lawsuit status: see Noe v. Parson.
  - July 2023: lawsuit filed.
  - August 25, 2023: petition for temporary injunction to block the ban from going into effect was denied, which allowed the ban to go into effect August 28, 2023.
- Previously, state effectively banned best practice medical care for all transgender people, regardless of age, though the ban never went into effect. See “Emergency Rule” 15 CSR 60-17.010 (issued April 13, 2023; intended to go into effect April 27, 2023 with expiration of February 6, 2024; rule terminated by attorney general on May 16, 2023).
  - The rule was initially set to go into effect April 27, 2023.
  - In April 2023, a lawsuit was filed challenging the ban. See Southampton Community Healthcare v. Bailey. This case earned a temporary block on the law, delaying the effective date to at least July 24, 2023, with a further injunction possible at that time.
  - On May 16, 2023, the state’s attorney general filed to withdraw/terminate the emergency rule as a result of the legislative ban passed by the legislature.
  - While the regulation was presented as allowing medical care if patients/providers meet certain requirements, these requirements were extraordinarily burdensome if not effectively impossible to meet.

Montana

  - Law also says “state property, facilities, or buildings may not be knowingly used to promote or advocate the use of social transitioning or the medical treatments prohibited” by this law. See Section 4(7). This is the first state to issue any sort of restrictions targeting social transition.
- *In September 2023, a state district court temporarily blocked the state’s ban. See van Garderen v. State of Montana (filed May 2023).
Nebraska
  - Law allows those with hormone prescriptions prior to the effective date of the bill (October 1, 2023) to continue those prescriptions.
  - Law explicitly bans surgical care for those <19, and bans new prescription medications for those <19 unless the individual can meet requirements to be determined by the state’s chief medical officer. The bill specifies these requirements must address numerous elements, including but not limited to a minimum number of hours in therapy, a required waiting period, and other items likely to create significant obstacles to this medically necessary care.
  - In October 2023, when the law went into effect, the state released temporary emergency regulations (original version here; current page here, “Ch 8. Nonsurgical Pharmaceutical Gender Altering Treatments”) for minors seeking new prescriptions. As expected, these are extremely restrictive and inconsistent with best-practice standards of medical care. These regulations are temporary while the state develops a permanent set of rules, which are undergoing public comment.
- In May 2023, a lawsuit was filed challenging this ban. See Planned Parenthood of the Heartland v. Hilgers.

North Dakota

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18, including emancipated minors). See HB1254 (April 2023, effective immediately).
  - Law also makes providing surgical care a felony crime, and providing medication a misdemeanor crime.
  - Law allows exception for minors who are, prior to April 19, 2023, receiving medication to continue receiving that medical care.
- In September 2023, a lawsuit was filed challenging this ban. See T.D. v. Wrigley.

Ohio

- State bans* best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). Only the surgical care ban is currently in effect:
  - *State ban on best practice surgical care for transgender youth (ages <18) is currently in effect. See Executive Order 2024-01D and Emergency Rules 3701-59-06 and 3701-83-60 (January 5, 2024, effective immediately).
  - *State ban on best practice medication for transgender youth is not yet in effect. See HB68 (veto overridden January 24, 2024; effective April 24, 2024).
  - Law allows exception for minors who are, prior to April 24, 2024, receiving medication to continue receiving that medical care.
  - Law also bans any physician from conduct that “aids or abets” the provision of best practice medical care for transgender youth.
  - Law also creates restrictions or additional requirements on transgender youth’s access to mental health care. See Sec. 3129.03.
- Lawsuit status: see Moe et al. v. Yost et al., against HB68 (2024).
  - March 2024: lawsuit filed.
  - April 16, 2024: a court temporarily blocked the legislative ban from going into effect. However, the executive order that bans surgical care only remains in effect.
- Note: Additional proposed rules, not yet in effect, would also restrict access to all forms of medical care for transgender adults, if and when these proposed rules go into effect. See for example Draft Rules 3701-3-17, 3701-59-07, 3701-83-61 (comment period ended February 5, 2024, with potential adoption to follow).
Oklahoma

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See SB613 (May 2023, effective immediately).
  - Law also makes providing such care a felony crime.
  - Law allows minors who have a hormone prescription prior to the effective date of the bill (May 1, 2023) to continue that prescription but only for six months, “solely for the purpose of assisting the minor with gradually decreasing and discontinuing the use of the drugs or hormones.”
- Lawsuit status: see Poe et al. v. Drummond et al.
  - May 2023: lawsuit filed.
  - May 18, 2023: the state’s attorney general signed a binding agreement to not enforce the state’s ban while the court considered a preliminary injunction (a temporary block).
  - October 2023: a court ruled against the families of transgender youth, denying their motion for a preliminary injunction of the ban. As a result, the state’s attorney general declared the ban to be in effect. LGBTQ advocates are appealing the court’s ruling, and the lawsuit continues.
- Previously, SB3 (Oct 2022) provided over $108 million in federal COVID-relief funding to the University of Oklahoma medical system, with the requirement that the system stop providing best practice medical care for transgender youth. The medical system agreed to this requirement. This did not ban best practice medical care statewide, but did reflect a clear effort to limit access to this medically necessary care.

Pennsylvania

Rhode Island

- State does not ban best practice medical care for transgender youth

South Carolina

- State bans best practice medical care for transgender youth (ages <18). See HB4624 (May 2024, effective immediately).
  - Law allows minors who have a hormone prescription prior to August 1, 2024, to continue that prescription but only through January 31, 2025. Medical providers are expected to “systematically reduce” the prescription over that time period.

South Dakota

  - Law allows minors who have a hormone prescription prior to July 1, 2023, to continue that prescription but only through Dec 31, 2023. Medical providers are expected to “systematically reduce” the prescription over that time period.
Tennessee

  - Law also bans “a person” (i.e., not only medical providers) from providing hormones or puberty blocking medication to minors, and further specifically bans medical providers out of state from providing care via telehealth to minors in the state.
  - Law allows minors who have a hormone prescription prior to the effective date of the bill (July 1, 2023) to continue that prescription but only until March 31, 2024.

  - April 2023: lawsuit filed.
  - June 2023: a federal judge temporarily blocked the state’s ban on medication, but not on surgical care.
  - July 2023: the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals lifted the temporary block, allowing the state’s full ban to go into effect immediately. LGBTQ advocates are assessing next steps.

- Previously, SB126 (2021) prohibited medical providers from providing hormone-related medication to “prepubertal minors” (emphasis added). Best practice medical care for transgender youth can (though does not always) include hormone-related medication, but only once a youth has entered puberty, not prior to it. In other words, this law banned something that did not happen, but it set a dangerous precedent for further restrictions of medical care for transgender youth.

Texas

  - Law allows minors who have a hormone prescription prior to June 1, 2023, to continue that prescription but only over a limited amount of time (unspecified) with the expectation they will “wean off” the prescription.

  - July 2023: lawsuit filed.
  - Aug 25, 2023: a state court temporarily blocked the state’s ban from going into effect. However, the state attorney general appealed the decision, a move that automatically paused the temporary block—allowing the ban to go into effect on Sept 1.

- Previously, and as reported by Equality Texas, “On February 18th [2022], in the middle of early voting for the Texas primary elections, Attorney General Ken Paxton released a non-binding opinion grossly mischaracterizing medically necessary, best-practice healthcare for transgender children as child abuse. Shortly after, Governor Abbott sent a letter to the Department of Family Protective Services (DFPS) directing them to enforce Paxton’s opinion." These actions did not change the law in Texas and are not legally binding (in fact, their very legality is being directly challenged in court), but they have nonetheless caused harm and even initiated investigations into families of transgender children in the state. These investigations were temporarily halted by a statewide injunction, until a Texas Supreme Court ruling in May 2022 ended that injunction. However, the Texas Supreme Court also ruled that the governor had no authority to order such investigations. For more information and resources, see the Transgender Education Network of Texas (TENT) and Equality Texas.

  o Law allows limited exception for minors to receive hormone medication under a burdensome set of conditions, but this exception does exist. Requirements include an official diagnosis of “severe gender dysphoria” from at least two medical providers, one of whom must be a mental health provider or adolescent medicine specialist, and both with “relevant training.” The conditions also require that the medication is “limited to the lowest titratable dosage necessary to treat the psychiatric condition and not for purposes of gender transition,” among other requirements/conditions on such care.
